In order to achieve high-efficiency monitoring of distributed energy resources, meet the requirements for power access to the power grid, reasonable allocation, centralized monitoring, reasonable allocation, centralized monitoring, power grid analysis, distribution network automation and. This report is available at no cost from the National Renewable Energy Laboratory (NREL) at www.NationalRenewableEnergyLaboratory.com, Sandia National Laboratory, SunSpec Alliance, and the SunShot National Laboratory Multiyear Partnership (SuNLaMP) PV O&M Best Practices. Interest in PV systems is increasing and the installation of large PV systems or large groups of PV systems that are interactive with the utility grid is accelerating, so the compatibility of higher levels of distributed generation needs to be ensured and the grid infrastructure protected. The. In 2011, California adopted a Renewable Portfolio Standard (RPS) requiring that at least one-third of the state's electricity come from clean energy sources by 2020. The California RPS program was established in 2002 by Senate Bill (SB) 1078 (Sher, 2002) with the initial requirement that 20% of. Distributed photovoltaic (PV) power stations, in particular, are gaining popularity for their ability to generate clean energy close to the point of consumption, reducing transmission losses and promoting energy independence for businesses, households, and communities. Since photovoltaic power stations have a large area, occupy a large area, remote areas, complex distribution terrain, etc. Conducting regular O&M ensures optimal performance of photovoltaic (PV) systems while.
