

Does foreign rooftop solar power generate electricity

Overview

Covering the world's rooftops with solar panels could provide 65% of global electricity, according to the findings of new research from the University of Sussex. Rooftop photovoltaic (RPV) is often understood as a niche contribution to climate change mitigation. However, the global potential of RPVs to mitigate global warming is unknown. Here we map the global rooftop area at 1-km resolution, quantifying 286,393 km² of rooftops worldwide through geospatial. Solar power is clean, green, inexpensive, and renewable energy that is produced when sunlight strikes human-made solar cells and is subsequently converted into electricity.
