

Electric vehicle safety hungary

Overview

As Canada lowers its tariffs and imports more electric vehicles from China, an upcoming report from New York-based labour rights researchers is making new allegations of forced labour practices at the world's bestselling EV manufacturer, BYD. A visitor observes a BYD electric vehicle during the Indonesia International Motor Show in February. The Chinese company is the world's biggest seller of EVs. This figure is particularly notable as plug-in hybrids no longer qualify for green number. The past month brought multiple record-breaking milestones in the climate-friendly renewal of the domestic vehicle fleet. In March, a record number received green license plates, which in Hungary are used for pure electric and other zero-emission vehicles. * The number exceeded 1,000 vehicles on 31 December 2023.
