

Overview

Typically, 2 to 4 solar panels rated 250-300W each are used for a 48V system. Panels are connected in series to achieve a voltage close to or above 48V (usually around 54V), which is necessary for charging the battery bank effectively. For example, a 1000W pump requires at least 1500W of solar panels. Use solar panel specs (VOC, VMP, power) to configure series and parallel connections, based on whether your pump is. The DC/AC ratio (also called the panel-to-inverter ratio) compares the total DC wattage of your solar panels to the AC wattage rating of your inverter. $746/E \times \text{Load} \times \text{Time P (kW)}$
 $= 1 \times (746/0.5 \text{ W})$ Therefore, the power consumption of a 1HP DC pump is 932.
