

Power generation depends on wind

Overview

Wind turbines use blades to collect the wind's kinetic energy. Wind flows over the blades creating lift (similar to the effect on airplane wings), which causes the blades to turn.

In 2024, wind supplied over 2,494 TWh of electricity, which was 8.1% of world electricity. To help meet the Paris Agreement's goals to limit climate change, analysts say it should expand much faster than it currently is - by over 1% of electricity generation per year. Expansion of wind power is being hindered by fossil fuel subsidies.

Wind Power Generation

Wind power generation is defined as the conversion of wind energy into electrical energy using wind turbines, often organized in groups to form wind farms, which provides a clean and renewable source
