

The reason why photovoltaic panels are not ventilated

Overview

Solar panels require ventilation and cooling to prevent heat buildup, which can impact their efficiency and overall performance in converting solar energy into electricity. The reason why photovoltaic panels are not vented either on the wall or over the roof of the buildings. This air gap will act like a ventilation in BIPV system. These types of ventilation not only reduce the temperature of PV panel, but also carry away the heat accumulated behind PV modules. A BIPV module is always mounted close to a surface and an increase in temperature will occur due to constrained airflow around the module and reduction in heat loss by radiation because of the presence of surrounding warm surfaces. By using energy directly from the sun, these systems minimize electricity use and can operate during power outages. We have direct experience of.
